Employee & Company Policy Handbook

Document ID: NX-HB-2026-001 • Version 1.1 • Status: Dummy/Test Document. This is a fictional handbook created for document parsing, search, retrieval-augmented generation (RAG), and question-answering testing. All people, addresses, codes, policies, dates, and figures are invented and do not represent a real company.

1. Company Overview

- Company Name: Nexora Systems Ltd.
- Founded: 2018
- Head Office: 42 Meridian Avenue, Northbridge, NB 20410
- Industry: Enterprise software, cloud services, and data platforms
- Website: www.nexora.example
- Mission: Build reliable digital tools that help organizations work securely and efficiently.
- Core Values: Integrity, customer focus, continuous learning, inclusion, accountability, and responsible innovation.

2. Company Guidelines

- Employees should communicate respectfully, protect company resources, follow approved procedures, and document important decisions.
- Remote employees must maintain a professional working environment and use company-approved devices and collaboration tools.
- Confidential information must only be shared with authorized recipients who have a legitimate business need.
- Employees should report suspected policy violations promptly through their manager, HR, or the Security Team.
- Conflicts of interest must be disclosed before an employee participates in a decision that could benefit them personally.

3. Code of Conduct

- Treat colleagues, customers, partners, and vendors with dignity and respect.
- Harassment, discrimination, bullying, retaliation, threats, and intimidation are prohibited.
- Company systems must not be used for unlawful activity, unauthorized commercial activity, or deliberate disruption.
- Employees must provide accurate business records and must not falsify expenses, timesheets, approvals, or customer information.
- Violations may result in corrective action up to and including termination, subject to applicable law and company procedure.

4. Information Security

- Security Principle: Assume company information is confidential unless it has been explicitly classified as public.
- Password Rule: Use unique passwords and the approved password manager. Never share passwords or authentication codes.
- MFA: Multi-factor authentication is required for email, source-control, production, and administrative systems.
- Phishing: Suspicious messages should be reported to security@nexora.example. Do not open unexpected attachments or enter credentials from untrusted links.
- Devices: Company laptops must use full-disk encryption, automatic screen locking, and supported operating-system versions.
- Data Handling: Customer data must not be copied to personal storage, personal email, or unapproved applications.

5. Security Codes & Emergency Information

- Security Incident Code: NX-SEC-4472
- Critical Incident Severity: SEV-1
- Security Hotline: +1-555-010-4472
- Security Email: security@nexora.example
- Physical Office Emergency: Call local emergency services first, then notify Facilities.

Important: the codes above are fictional test values and are not real credentials, access codes, or secrets.

6. Courses & Training

Code	Course	Requirement	Duration
SEC-101	Security Awareness	Required annually	45 minutes
PRV-201	Privacy & Data Protection	Required for employees handling personal data	60 minutes
ETH-110	Code of Conduct	Required at onboarding and every two years	30 minutes
SAFE-120	Workplace Safety	Required annually	40 minutes
AI-130	Responsible Use of AI Tools	Required for employees using approved AI systems	35 minutes

7. Leave & Absence Policy

This section expands the handbook's leave guidance into clearly labeled categories so that specific employee questions (e.g. “how many vacation days do I get”, “what is the sick leave policy”) can be answered directly. Figures below are illustrative example values for this dummy dataset, not real entitlements.

7.1 General Leave Request Process

- Employees should submit planned leave through the HR portal at least five (5) business days in advance when practical.
- Managers are responsible for maintaining reasonable team coverage during planned absences.
- Employees working remotely should remain reachable during agreed working hours, except during breaks or approved leave.
- Leave requests are approved or declined by the employee's direct manager in the HR portal; approvals should be recorded before the leave is taken.

7.2 Annual (Vacation) Leave

- Example allowance: 20 working days of paid annual leave per calendar year for full-time employees.
- Unused annual leave may be carried over up to a maximum of 5 days into the following year, subject to manager approval.
- Annual leave accrues monthly and is prorated for employees who join or leave mid-year.

7.3 Sick Leave

- Example allowance: 10 paid sick days per calendar year for full-time employees.
- Employees should notify their manager as soon as reasonably possible on the first day of illness.
- A medical certificate may be requested for sick leave lasting more than 3 consecutive working days.

7.4 Parental Leave

- Example allowance: 12 weeks of paid parental leave for a qualifying birth, adoption, or placement.
- Employees should notify HR and their manager at least 30 days before the expected start date where possible.
- Parental leave may be taken continuously or, with manager and HR agreement, in a split arrangement.

7.5 Bereavement Leave

- Example allowance: up to 5 paid days for the loss of an immediate family member, and up to 2 paid days for an extended family member.
- Employees should inform their manager and HR as soon as practical; documentation is not required.

7.6 Public Holidays

- Employees receive paid time off for all officially recognized public holidays in their work location.
- If a public holiday falls on a scheduled non-working day, employees may take an alternative day off, subject to manager approval.

7.7 Unpaid Leave

- Employees may request unpaid leave for circumstances not covered by other leave categories, subject to manager and HR approval.

- Unpaid leave requests should be submitted through the HR portal with a stated reason and expected duration.

7.8 Privacy Note

- Personal information about colleagues, including leave and health-related details, should not be collected or shared unless there is a legitimate business purpose.

8. Acceptable Technology Use

- Only approved software may be installed on managed company devices.
- Cloud storage must use company-approved accounts and access controls.
- Source code, credentials, customer records, and internal documents must not be uploaded to public repositories.
- AI assistants may be used only with approved tools and must not receive confidential, regulated, or customer-restricted information unless explicitly authorized.

9. Reporting & Contacts

Team	Contact
Human Resources	hr@nexora.example
IT Support	helpdesk@nexora.example
Security	security@nexora.example
